Dear Mr. Brown:

Thank you for your letter of July 29, 1989, respecting the problems you have encountered with environmental sensitivities.

I understand that you have talked recently, by phone, with Dr. J. Losos, Director General, Laboratory Centre for Disease Control, and that you are now aware of the meeting to be held this month with the societies and associations most concerned with this issue.

I hope that, as a result of this meeting, a consensus will be reached among the parties respecting the problem as well as action on the studies needed to be carried out. Please rest assured that we will address the situation in an adequate manner.

Yours sincerely,

Margaret Catley-Carlson
